City of Bristol College and Electrolux

City of Bristol College recent refurbishment at the Ashley Down Campus has been rated as the top performing College in the West of England. Ashley Down was formally known as Cabot House, which was a orphanage building dating back to the 1800's.

Ashley Down offers students excellence in catering and hospitality with an extensive training program to NVQ qualification level.

Whilst the city centre campus College Green provides a full bistro menu and hosts many industry competitions attracting the very best of competitors and judges from the West of England.

Restaurant & Rwe Manager Adrian Kirikmaa explained "Together with Electrolux we have designed kitchens that enable us to provide excellent training and restaurants that offer affordable quality food" he adds "With the newly installed kitchens we now have the ability to cope with the demanding requirements of a complete in house training without compromising the quality".

Electrolux handed over the project to their local distributors Shine Food Machinery based in Newport. Chris Hinton from Shine's arranged for a complete project management and install team to support the college up until handover. Electrolux then took over providing full equipment training with their Chef, and also supported the equipment with a full twelve months parts and labour warranty and a further 12 months parts.

The college have set their sights high by successfully entering high profile competitions such as College Restaurant of the Year. They can also proudly enjoy their status as one of the finalists for the Nestlé Torque D'or awards 2007.
